Introduction

This 5-week course aims to provide new teachers with a structured understanding of the learning and teaching approaches and ideas at the core of the student experience within Navitas. You will have the opportunity to explore and create a personal learning and teaching philosophy which supports your students in their learning journey. Importantly, the course also explores and encourages you to apply these principles to your own teaching context. Upon successful completion of the course, you will receive a Certificate of Completion.

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this course, you will be able to:

- Describe how your teaching practice is situated within the higher education landscape and Navitas context.
- Explain the importance of aligning teaching, learning and assessment activities for coherence using constructive alignment as a principle.
- Appraise a variety of learner-centred teaching strategies in the context of higher education.
- Appraise a variety of feedback and assessment strategies.
- Evaluate your own teaching practice against established higher education standards.

Course Delivery

You will use a range of learning technologies during the course, which will be facilitated within Navitas Core Moodle as well as Zoom (for live sessions). You are required to have access to the Internet. A webcam and headset microphone are also required for live sessions.

Target Participants

The course is aimed at teaching and related staff who are new to teaching (under 2 years) and/or new to teaching at Navitas. The course is a professional development activity available to all staff within Navitas.

Weekly Study Pattern

You are expected to commit a minimum of 15 hours over the 5-week period. On a weekly basis, you will attend or watch a 1 hour live session, engage in 1 hour of reading and 1 hour of individual or group activities which will include discussions, submitting material for feedback and providing feedback to other participants. It is expected that you will be actively engaging in activities each week of the course.

Professional Development Framework

Effective Teaching at Navitas is a course about strategies for new teachers. Other Professional Development courses, which focus on specific aspects of the learning and teaching process, are also available and offered throughout the year. These courses include:

- Assessment Marking and Feedback
- Engagement and Motivation
- Learning Design Essentials
- Blended Learning Essentials
- Building in Navitas Core Moodle
